

January 2010

Senior Digital designer/ Art Director – Shoreditch studio

About rehabstudio

A digital creative & production company blending technological innovation with traditional methods of bespoke design and craftsmanship. Founded in 2003 we offer a unique mix of boutique credibility and big agency capability, producing “Hand built digital”; made-to-measure, tactile & expertly finished.

This hand-crafted approach underpins everything we do, from strategy, design and technology to the way we work with people. Our development studio based in Belfast, houses teams of technical talent producing bespoke web, mobile & interactive campaigns.

The studio creates engaging interactive sites, brand experiences and other non traditional campaigns for advertising agencies and brands in Europe & the US. Recent clients include, Cadburys, Doritos, Guitar Hero, Motorola, SAAB, T-Mobile, Toyota & Universal Music

Who are we looking for?

We require creatives to join our London team who are working with our international advertising agency and brand clients on a wide range of mediums from interactive, film, animation & sound.

You need to be able to work with us on a mixture of fully spec'd jobs and brainstorming inside the studio on new concepts. You will have a desire to create something that hasn't been made yet, be that online, on mobile, in an installation or on film. Your ability to move work from concept to creative development through to beautiful, engaging finished work will be of the highest order.

Working on high-end digital campaign production you will have to concept; create artwork, direct programmers, direct live video and photography shoots as well as other creatives in the team.

You will need to:

- be able to mastermind, develop & execute interactive design concepts for our high profile agency commissions
- Expertly produce artwork concepts for our creative production
- Have great communication skills and experience interacting directly with client & distributed teams
- Be self-motivated and willing to be challenged by Creative Director & clients
- Show highest attention to detail in quality of finishing
- Constantly brainstorm new creative initiatives and brimming with self-initiated ideas

What you get:

- Competitive salary
- Secure job offering, full time contract
- Excellent working environment
- Other special rehabstudio style perks
- The opportunity to develop your skills, experiment and deliver world class projects

At rehabstudio we believe in nurturing and developing our team in whatever direction they want to go.
We work hard and have lots of fun in the process.

To Apply:

Please send your CV and a covering letter, to Tim Rodgers Creative Partner, c/o happyli@rehabstudio.com